

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 02/19/2025 09:11 PMComments Received :

This is completely unconstitutional. This is ignoring a person's independence and assertion of their own identity. How does this affect people who have obtained a court order from a judge to update all their identification including their birth certificate? Should the passport reflect an outdated document or a correct one? In addition, how are officials supposed to identify someone when their gender expression does not match their passport? Are those people going to be pulled aside every time? This is clearly discrimination targeted towards transgender, intersex, and others who do not adhere to obvious gender standards.