

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 02/19/2025 09:11 PMComments Received :

The new policies to roll back gender marker and name changes, and deny the ability to do so for any reason whatsoever, presents a clear danger towards the rights of everyone who will be affected by these changes, especially women who take on the surnames of their spouses. All this will accomplish is the direct and active deprivation of the freedom of movement and right to vote, both covered under the first amendment, not to mention the danger it presents towards those looking to flee their current situation for something better.