

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 02/19/2025 09:38 PMComments Received :

Transgendered people exist and any change that prevents them from identifying themselves as they will appear to immigration officials will cause delays and problems with admission to the US and other countries. The recent Presidential executive orders do not change the reality that trans people exist. The EO's are factually and ethically wrong and do not alter that scientific biological reality that trans people are real people making up 1%-2% of the world's population.