This is an absurd and unconstitutional change. Absurd from a biological standpoint because people who are believed to be a certain sex at birth do not always stay that way. There are many examples where later events cause secondary sex characteristics to appear that do not match the sex that was previously assumed. With this proposed change, such people have no recourse. These changes are unconstitutional as well, as they discriminate against transgender people. The whole point of our Constitution is to protect people against absolute rulers who would impose laws at their own whim without agreement from representatives. Rule without representation is tyranny.
