

Author Full Name : Eris Castrogivanni

Received Date : 02/19/2025 10:22 PM

Comments Received :

The new document does not support an X marker for intersex folks, and the shift to a "male" vs "female" sex marker based on assigned sex at birth could hold up individuals whose gender don't necessarily match their assigned sex at birth. This requires retraining of CBP agents and makes the "sex" marker essentially useless for identification purposes, since it will no longer necessarily match the passport holder's gender presentation.