

Author Full Name : Patrick GoodhartReceived Date : 02/20/2025 01:55 AMComments Received :

Refusing to update gender to match a person's desire for political reasons is reprehensible. There are a variety of biological conditions that result in indeterminate development, and only the person themselves can determine their own representation. It endangers US citizens worldwide to force passports to be different than their external representation.