

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 02/20/2025 01:18 AM

Comments Received :

Many states have implemented gender identity as a seperate identifier from sex , and several states allow ammendments to gender/sex on the birth certificate. This requirement would cause undue hardships on the states, as well as taking the decision out of the states hands.

This is blatantly discriminatory and exclusionary to an already marginalized population. It also is driven by Christian theology, which completely disregards separation of church and state as laid out in the constitution.