The executive orders issued from the White House under the authority of President Trump are largely unconstitutional and in some instances actively anti-American in ideology.

The United States is a place of tolerance, acceptance, and academic excellence. Our most educated have found time and time again that the existence of Transgender, queer, and ethnically diverse people is of no threat to the people of this country. They have found that there is no reasonable loss by entrusting the same rights endowed to the rest of the country's people to citizens who are of these groups. In fact, they have found that there are a plethora of benefits in allowing these Americans to live with the same degree of dignity that is afforded to the rest of us.

Transgender, queer, and ethnically diverse people should all be enabled to live their lives with dignity, identify how they so choose, and have their lives recognized and enshrined in legal documentation. Renewal of passports should accurately reflect the identity of the person in question, as it does for the rest of the country's people.
