I believe that the information contained in a passport should most reflect the facts at hand. If a state has accepted a changed gender, than the passport should accept it as well, and specifically requiring information that could be out of date, and also that disregards the real lived experience of intersex individuals in our country is dangerous. There is no benefit to changing this information for the citizen, for the state, or for the federal government. I steadfastly disagree with the policy of cooperating with the "Defending Women from Gender Ideology Extremism and Restoring Biological Truth to the Federal Government" Executive order, as it is causing conflict between citizens for no gain.
