Please reconsider the language in "Application for a US Passport," as it is overtly transphobic, illogical (are birth hair and eye color, or height at birth also to be required?), and may be in violation of the injunction put on the state by the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado in the Zzyym v. Blinken case. At the very least, it encroaches on the rights of states who have already enacted REAL ID processes and procedures for legal name change.

I am not a trans person, but I am for trans people's rights, intersex people's rights, the rights of all people to change their names if desired, and for all women's rights, including those of married women with name changes. No president of the United States has the authority to enforce a non-factual perspective of human biology, and the collection and assessment of semantic gender markers is a waste of the State Department's time.
