United States passports should include more than 2 genders and external genitalia morphology at birth, gender presentation in dress and behavior, and genetic chromosomes are three distinctly different things. There are already rulings regarding intersex individuals and these forms are in violation of the injunction put on State by the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado in the Zzyym v. Blinken case (formerly Zzyym v. Pompeo, Zzyym v. Tillerson, and Zzyym v. Kerry). Attempting to define the human experience as only containing two genders flies in the face of biology, compassion and lived human experience. Discrimination against transgender, intersex, and nonbinary individuals is morally repugnant. An X gender category should be available on all US passports.
