

Author Full Name : Adam FrankReceived Date : 02/20/2025 09:23 AMComments Received :

I believe that all government documents should recognize and confirm the gender of a person at the time of application, not at the time of birth. Otherwise the documents produced will not conform to the person current status and will be out of conformity with other documents they possess. It is also not the governments job to be moral police - that was suppose to be left to the States. The US Government should be in the practice of protecting the rights of people, not trying to take them away.