

Author Full Name : Hugh Davis

Received Date : 02/20/2025 10:25 AM

Comments Received :

Any policy requiring trans people to out themselves on public documents such as passports can only do harm. Thus, requiring markers for biological sex does nothing to protect cis women, as this administration purports--that justification is a thin, obvious pretext for animus against trans people. Either let people choose their gender markers or remove the marker entirely.