

Author Full Name : Christine LadwigReceived Date : 02/20/2025 10:47 AMComments Received :

In consideration of current and best scientific standards, as well as general courtesy and kindness, the notion of reverting passports to a non-scientific, non-factual, and ultimately a petty version of meanness is ridiculous. There is no reason to change gender to sex.

A passport is for identification only when traveling to other countries. Passport identification should match each individual's chosen identity in regards to sex and gender. Trans people are people, and them identifying as their chosen gender or sex does not pose a danger or a threat to our nation or any other nation.

This blatant anti-trans movement is cruel, unjust and pointless. Please stop this "there are only two genders" nonsense and allow trans people to thrive and live as they please, just like any other citizen.