As a woman, changing the information to require biological sex is not defending me. I do not feel threatened by transgender women or men, and requiring a change of all passports, something that even a small cost is too much, is not something that is at all important to me. I do not need defending on this particular subject, which the name suggests is the sole purpose. This is an unnecessary change that will do nothing but target transgender individuals and make their lives more difficult than they already are. This will provide absolutely zero benefit to women, aside from the gloating and bragging rights of those determined to make life more difficult for transgender individuals. I do not want to bear the cost of their bullying tactics.
