

Author Full Name : L BoutetReceived Date : 02/20/2025 11:39 AMComments Received :

It is vitally important to respect Trans safety, identity and humanity in all aspects of public life, including in their ability to access and receive important government paperwork like passports. Passports should be available to ALL people, including Trans and non-binary people, with the correct information and without undue stress or hassle. Trans people's rights are important and should be respected in all the ways that everyone's rights should be, including true and accurate documentation that respects Trans identity.