

Author Full Name : Ellis Mullins

Received Date : 02/20/2025 11:36 AM

Comments Received :

Making it impossible to change the gender marker on your passport from whatever was assigned to you at birth will only cause problems for anyone who might need to change their passport information and lead to discrimination against these people. This applies to intersex and transgender people both and will hurt these marginalized groups for no good reason given by those demanding these changes.