Hello,

I believe the proposed action of making biological sex at birth the required gender marker on a passport to be entirely unnecessary, and will not be 'Defending Women from Gender Ideology Extremism' as the Executive Order suggests. The language of the EO grossly misrepresents the transgender community as solely males attempting to abuse women, which is not correct or supported by evidence. Requiring people to disclose their birth sex on passports will do nothing to 'protect women' and will instead cause confusion and unsafe environments for transgender individuals, and thus will have no positive impact if implemented.

Thank you for your time
