I am a "biological" woman, and even though this act is supposed to be "protecting me", it is a political push to try to dehumanize very real intersex and transgender people that should be able to have their identification reflect what their identity is. What matters is that they prove they are a citizen, and that their passport reflects how they identify in the world, because it is *identification*. This requirement goes against not only biological fact, but legal precedent, in violation of the injunction put on State by the U.S. District Court for the District of Colorado in the Zzyym v. Blinken case (formerly Zzyym v. Pompeo, Zzyym v. Tillerson, and Zzyym v. Kerry).
