

Author Full Name : Paige-Erin Wheeler

Received Date : 02/20/2025 01:11 PM

Comments Received :

The change to limit gender markers on passports to "sex at birth" discriminates against intersex people who may not have a sex assigned at birth, or that may later develop characteristics which do not align to their sex at birth. It also discriminates against transgender and nonbinary people. I would prefer for people to be allowed to designate whichever gender marker they prefer on their passport. It doesn't affect national security at all to allow people to choose the marker that fits them best!