

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 02/20/2025 02:22 PM

Comments Received :

In passport applications and on federal identification documents, the designation should be "gender" rather than "sex" to encompass all aspects of identity rather than strictly biology, which is also not binary or inclusive to intersex and other differing individuals. Further, the designations available should include "M," "F," and "X" and should be based on self-attestation rather than demand "proof" or supporting documentation.