hearing and knowing the information about what has come to passports in the US has caused me some great distress. I am personally unaffected as i am both happy with my assigned gender and do not plan to travel outside the united states. however i know friends who are either or, or both of these factors and have been distressed about not being able to embrace the identity they wish to choose to themselves upon their legal identity. i wish for them to be able to wholly embrace and represent what they feel is accurate to them on their ID passport and any other resulting identification for their person in our great country. As this is a land of the free to our born and raised citizens who deserve the same respect and right as anyone else should.
