

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 02/20/2025 03:31 PM

Comments Received :

It doesn't make sense to reduce gender choices on a passport application, especially since it is not illegal to be transgender or non-binary. All it does is create problems for passport control in other countries when someone physically appears different than their birth assigned gender.

This is a bad idea that will waste time for US government officials, international passport control and make a lot of people miserable.

This is mean spirited and stupid.