

Author Full Name : Joshua Bruckner

Received Date : 02/20/2025 04:11 PM

Comments Received :

Changing personal information on passports, including name and gender marker, must be allowed. We need trans-inclusive policies in this country, especially on such important personal identifications such as passports.

It is exclusionary and wrong to force citizens to use names and gender markers on official documents that do not align with their identify. Doing so would mark them for discrimination and harrasment.

We must have inclusive policies for the good of all our citizens.