With the rash of anti-trans and anti-lgbt rhetoric i find the idea that certain individuals can be denied the right to secure a passport to travel from our country to another frankly absurd and a flagrant abuse of a minority under the guise of "protecting the kids". I find that, as one of our founding principles as a nation, declares the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness any individual, whether transsexual or not, should be allowed to procure documentation that reflects who they are as a person and as the person that makes them the happiest. Anything less flies in the face of the pursuit of happiness we claim to respect as a nation.
