The executive order to limit gender markers to male or female only and the subsequent removal of all federal texts pertaining to the language surrounding trans individuals is petty at minimum and patently destructive at worst. To shun and silence an entire group of people who live in these here states and pay taxes like anyone else is cruel and un-american. Many people have fought for rights of personhood and to be treated kindly as citizens rather than criminals or the most miserable of animals, to go along with this order is a massive blow to progress and giving ground to violent extremists.

This is just one step in a long plan to target minorities of many groups, this sets a precedent. First they'll come for the trans folks, then the bi, then the gay/lesbian until none is left. It won't stop there either, they'll move onto others in their crosshairs. Disabled people including veterans, ethnic minorities they don't like, religious groups they don't agree with... Until all is a homogenized grey of conformity.

It's one of the things we keep touting, freedom, that is under attack and yet we let things like this come to pass.

Please reconsider this order's mandate, please start here at stopping them at the pass before they stomp on all we hold dear by not agreeing to it's demands, everything we have fought for since the start of this country rests on us choosing not to let blatantly in-humane acts continue.

There will be no kings in the United States.
