This is abhorrent and truly disgraceful. How can we, as Americans, treat our own citizens this way? We're ignoring biology and science for religion and discrimination like the Muslim countries we supposedly see as below us. We were a shining beacon of human rights, of civil rights. Trans people do not hurt anyone and it's embarrassing that we, as a country, are treating less than 1% of the population as if they could somehow ruin our great country. What can ruin our great country is to allow our president to encourage discrimination in our country through executive order. To capitulate to senseless lies and fear mongering put forth by the heritage foundation. This is a great shame for the United States and I'm sorry to see this happen to my country with nobody in power fighting against it.
