This rule change is blatantly unconstitutional, violating the 4th amendment in allowing transgender people to be secure in their papers. In most cases, transgender people get recognized as their true gender. Compelling transgender people to out themselves is not only cruel and unnecessary, it's dangerous and only serves to hurt them.

In a country that strives for equality, this rule change is not right. It's wrong, it's cruel, it's unconstitutional, it's wrong, and goes against science. Trans inclusive policies benefit everyone.
