This is absolutely discrimination going after trans people like this.
Let alone trying to keep them from leaving the country. Y'all wanted them to leave but now you don't?
We all know what's coming after that. Concentration camps and execution of trans people and it's gross.

This regime is testing the waters of what they can do and seeing how much opposition they're gonna get.
Just know, that y'all are going to have a whole lot of opposition. Minority groups aren't going to allow you to murk them and go quietly into the night. You wanna be like Adolf and other dictators, you're gonna have to fight and the US is the worst place for you to try it because even liberals and minority groups have guns and won't go down without a fight, unlike other countries with strict gun laws.

Y'all shoulda went for someplace else instead of this country.

That blind support from the dumb MAGAs will only go so far when your poorly worded laws start also affecting them negatively, because y'all are so blindly hating minorities that you don't even consider phrasing or wording.

You want people you don't like to leave the country.

Let em then.

Now that you're actually trying to stop it, you can't ever use that 'you don't like it then leave' bs argument.

Why y'all so dumb. You could had what you wanted with that and now you're actively stepping on your own toes and will just blame them for it.

Silly tiny man, with your silly tiny hands and orange Cheetos face.
