Under the current EO when a transgender person applies to have their passport renewed with a gender marker of X or that does not match their original Birth Certificate, the old passport is confiscated and there is a refusal to offer a new one. This is a violation of the ability for US Citizens to have travel documentation and to freely travel within and outside the US (depending on the country's visa requirements). This effectively limits the ability for Transgender people to travel and have federally issued identification. It is discriminatory, a constitutional violation and cruel besides. Passports should be renewed even if the gender marker is X or does not otherwise match an un-amended Birth Certificate.
