

Author Full Name : Michael Whitney

Received Date : 02/20/2025 08:26 PM

Comments Received :

Executive Order 14168 proposes a change in understanding of sex and gender that are not congruent to current social and scientific consensus. These changes are also discriminatory and likely unconstitutional under equal protection provisions of the 14th amendment.

Under no circumstances should the proposed changes on this form be implemented. Beyond the ordinary expense of changing forms they are likely to cause costly and extended litigation. In the interest of government efficiency, and indeed common decency, these proposed changes should be rejected.