

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 02/20/2025 09:26 PMComments Received :

Any changes to passport name change, data correction, and limited passport book replacement should be made with consideration that trans people, and non-gender conforming people do exist. It has been scientifically proven that gender is not just male/female, and therefore the process of registering for official documentation should be updated to correctly reflect that. If we are supposed to be such a great nation, then we should only strive for the best and most inclusive policies to govern how people are able to present themselves, and how those same people can travel. That excellence should be based off of actual empirically proven facts and logic, not the prejudiced and bigoted opinions of insecure rich people who are only in power to make themselves feel important. The change of a name or correction of a gender marker on a passport, can be incredibly important in securing the safety of a person that is post transition, mid transition, or non binary. Restricting the ability to do this correctly and quickly puts innocent people at risk of legal trouble or physical harm for petty and selfish reasons held by the vast minority of the population.