The existence of transgender people is not a political question. They have always existed and in our enlightened times, are recognized by all major medical groups. Excluding them from legal documents makes as much sense as excluding Males or Females. Further, sex can only truly be determined by a close examination of reproductive organs as well as chromosomes. Are we going to require that at the passport office?

Trans people make an easy target for people who need someone to hate. Please don't continue making life more difficult for even a small portion of Americans.

Gender choices belong on U.S. passports.
