

Author Full Name : Magnolia JohnsonReceived Date : 02/20/2025 10:14 PMComments Received :

It is necessary from a practical standpoint that people be able to change the sex marker on their passport through the federal government for practical reasons. The sex marker on passports should reflect the current sex/gender identity of its owner because it means less confusion and hassle for all parties involved in situations where one has to use a passport, but additionally, in a situation where someone needs to be located or tracked, their face, appearance, and presentation matter infinitely more than their genitals.