

Author Full Name : Micki Reed

Received Date : 02/20/2025 10:28 PM

Comments Received :

The limiting of passports to two gender options based on the gender assigned at birth is not sufficient to describe the variety of gender expressions present naturally in humans. Intersex, infertile, and chromosomal anomalies influence biological sex assigned at birth, as well as gender expression. Forcing a citizen to carry an ID which does not comport with how they present their gender on a daily basis may put them in danger abroad, as well as making Everify checks with employers flag the employee or one of their dependents.

Please do not limit the citizens of the US to two gender options.