

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 02/21/2025 02:13 AM

Comments Received :

People should be allowed to request changes to their passports that match how they identity themselves. That's the point of all identification documents, to identify the person they belong to. And if it doesn't match the way that person outwardly looks, dresses, expresses, or talks about themselves then the document is not doing it's job.