Why make such an easy renewal process for an incredibly important document so difficult? Should it really matter that we change the option from “Gender” to “Sex” when people haven’t had any issues with it until now? What if the people who have both genitals from the moment they were out the womb? How would they fill out the document if they had to already decide which “sex” they wanted to be since birth despite clearly having BOTH?

Why not make it easier on the community and allow folks to put down whatever gender identity they go by — even if it’s as simple as putting “neither”? It is an easy filing process for federal workers at BEST, and certainly a catastrophe waiting to happen for EVERY citizen.
