I believe that the US passport should utilize the gender marker of the choosing of the holder or not have the gender marker present at all
I believe that trans Americans deserve the right to travel internationally same as any cisgender American with the name and gender on their passport of their choosing
I myself am non-binary and use They/Them pronouns however I hold a passport with the male gender identifier as that is what I was assigned at birth and the option for an X gender marker which is the one that suits me best is not presently an option
