Changing the “gender” box to “sex” and requiring a person’s sex assigned at birth on US passports is in violation of the outcome of Zzyym v. Blinken, a case that went before the US District Court for the District of Colorado. It would effectively exclude intersex Americans from being able to fill out a passport application accurately. It could also put trans Americans in danger while traveling. I am scared for my friends and loved ones, as well as all other Americans, whose gender and/or outward presentation differ from their sex assigned at birth.
