

Author Full Name : Grant Gibson

Received Date : 02/21/2025 10:46 AM

Comments Received :

It is currently ruled through judicial review that persons do not have to follow gender stereotypes in presenting. Removal of persons being able to change their gender markings is a form of discrimination and is large government overreach into personal/private lives. Never mind the fact that intersex people exist making the executive order massively incorrect just on 'simple' understanding of reality. Removal of the X marker will radically change the free movement of US citizens