

Author Full Name : James WeigleReceived Date : 02/21/2025 11:54 AMComments Received :

I totally oppose any policy changes around passport renewal that would compel trans and intersex people to revert the sex marker on their passports. People have good reasons for not wanting to disclose their status as trans or intersex to every clerk, officer, and border guard in every country they go to. This is a matter of safety for American citizens. I would oppose these changes even if they saved us money, but it looks like they're also costing us money.