Requiring one's gender marker to match one's biological sex on these documents puts trans, nonbinary, and intersex people in danger. Misrepresenting one's gender is not only not a crime, it is impossible. But transphobes and bigots who already want to hurt these people will use this requirement as a cudgel to justify harassment and violence. They can claim that trans individuals are engaging in fraud or deception, while all these individuals are doing is living as themselves. No one should feel unsafe for being themselves. Do not implement these changes.
