I do not agree with the proposed change to passport application and renewal forms that requires applicants to provide their biological sex at birth, male "M" or female "F." Why should a person applying for a passport be forced to note the biological sex they were assigned decades before if it does not reflect their current identity? This change also dismisses widely held and accepted, including by most medical professionals, concepts of gender identity. For matters of both practicality and dignity, US Citizens should have the ability to designate their correct gender identity on passports.
