I do not believe that by not allowing trans people to change their gender marker, we will improve the US. It is exactly the opposite. Let's protect people by allowing them to be happy and IDENTIFIABLE. I am a server and I've seen many IDs of trans people that haven't been able to get the change done and it breaks my heart when they tell me "it's me, but different. I promise". I am not a high level worker with TSA or anything but I can tell this is the same person and not a fake ID. Surely higher paid government employees would be able to.
