

Author Full Name : Veronica Calemine

Received Date : 02/22/2025 12:04 PM

Comments Received :

Transgender individuals should have the right to accurately represent their gender on official documents without being forced to use their sex assigned at birth. Allowing gender markers that reflect a person's true identity is essential for dignity, privacy, and safety. Forcing outdated, inaccurate information does not align with principles of equality and human rights.