

Author Full Name : Alex CamachoReceived Date : 02/22/2025 03:35 PMComments Received :

The proposed changes will negatively impact thousands of American citizens, myself included. I am a non-binary American and was elated when my gender was recognized by the government. Nonbinary gender identities have existed in all cultures across the entirety of humanity. In many of them we were recognized, celebrated and had a place in society. These proposed changes will make an already vulnerable population subject to more scrutiny, harm and harassment. We deserve to have the right to exist as we are without harmful government policies that do not consider scientific fact. In addition to nonbinary people, intersex people also exist. There are people who are born with mixed gender markers, and they deserve to exist.