

Author Full Name : Anonymous

Received Date : 02/22/2025 09:18 PM

Comments Received :

Gender is not binary - genders other than male and female DO exist, and as an identification document, passports should accurately reflect the person's current gender, as is reflected on their other legal documents. This change is unnecessary and will only increase the burden on the State Department as it will surely be taken to court for this change and the actions that result from it.