I disagree with 1) changing "gender" to "sex" on passports and 2) assigning only "M" or "F" based on the person's sex at birth.

#1 will actively put transgender people in danger if they are traveling to other countries, because they will be outed as transgender if the sex on their passport doesn't match their outward appearance. This will inevitably lead to cruel and abusive treatment from customs officials, especially in countries even more hostile to the LGBTQ community than the US. I do not want my taxpayer dollars to be put towards enforcing and defending executive orders that have no purpose besides cruelty.

#2 completely ignores intersex people and anyone who has a chromosomal abnormality. The declaration that there are only two biological sexes is political theater, not scientific fact, and our laws should be based on facts, not feelings.
