I am a transgender man with a beard and requiring me to renew my passport with a female gender marker would just make it less safe for me to travel and harder for officials to identify me. All my other documents show a male gender marker so why would this one document not match? The only thing this change would do is cause confusion and waste everyone's time, which would cost taxpayer money for no justifiable reason. Please do not force trans people to use a gender marker they don't want and can't use!
