

Author Full Name : AnonymousReceived Date : 02/23/2025 09:20 PMComments Received :

I'm writing on here today to argue for trans-inclusive policies and against anti-constitutional laws that apparently right-wing politicians are wasting time and fing tax dollars on drafting and passing instead of actual useful fing legislation that helps the middle and lower classes. I don't give a f about decorum and respect right now when you all as a government body are acting like literal nazi's making laws that take away rather than give to the American people and the Democratic party being so far up its a it can't even do anything to help. How dare you say you are the party of free speech while at the same time silence the 1% of Americans that I'm proud to be a part of. Taking away the right to identify with who we KNOW we are (and no we are not fing delusional or mentally ill) is something that an oligarchy would do, not the country of the free. Fing MEXICO provides the following to her citizens:

The ability to change one's legal name to align with their gender identity in most of her states; Federal Discrimination Protections that prohibit discrimination based on sexual orientation, which includes protections for transgender individuals; and Gender-affirming care. Mexico...NOT the ghetto a United States... And before you think about Mexico's flaws, which she certainly has as do all governmental bodies, she strives for the good of her citizens, they have federal abortion rights - which no limp-ded politician should ever have a say on a woman's OWN body! And don't worry I got something else for you further below. All of a sudden, US. Americans seem to enjoy yapping about protecting "female at birth women" from trans women. I don't have to explain or show the fing statistics on the rates of trans women and men sexually assaulting women, Google is free bh use it, when trans people are FOUR times more likely to be assaulted themselves! And going back to Mexico, you may also think to yourselves "Mexico's women mortality is higher there" ok, but the US.'s mortality rate is double than motherfng thin when we look at Black women double that at 69.9 DEATHS PER 100,000 LIVE BIRTHS. So clearly none of this is about protecting women. It's about taking my right of putting that little F on my legal documents because you can't stand to see us happy while you go home to that fing wildabeast you call wife/husband. I'll make the rest of this short and sweet. Just let trans people live. Let them be who they are and let THEM choose who to be. Trans people have existed long before the US. was even an idea and will be here long after it as well.